Paul is new mayor

The official "changing of the guard" took place at the Monday night City Council session. The new mayor is Norm Paul. Councilman Rusty Hammer will serve as vice mayor. For the story of Mayor Paul see pg. 3 of today's paper.

Garbage rates go up April 25

While Green Valley Disposal Company requested a rate hike effective April 1 that increase will be delayed to April 25 to meet legal requirements that a new ordinance take effect 30 days after adoption. Councilmen adopted the ordinance Monday night.

Should McBain be closed

Councilman Bill Podgorsek and city staff will be meeting with McBain Avenue residents to discuss their concern over traffic, litter and "drag racing" along their residential street.

At the Monday night council session officials noted and filed a letter from Carl Tucci which asked that McBain be closed to through traffic from Bascom Avenue to help overcome the problems.

Council to draft proposal

An adjourned meeting of the Campbell City Council was scheduled for Wednesday night, March 28, to draft a proposal for future use of the old Campbell Grammar School.

Mayor Norm Paul reported Monday that he and Councilman Rusty Hammer, State Senator Jerry Smith, John Burns, county housing authority director and Jeanette Watson, city museum curator, had recently met with Congressman Norm Mineta regarding possible plans for the vacant school site. The city has a deadline of April 2 to come up with a specific plan for the Campbell elementary school district property. The city has requested time on the April 17 school board agenda.

Burns had earlier proposed a 200-unit senior citizen complex be built on property adjacent to John D. Morgan Park on W. Rincon Avenue. The housing authority proposal is scheduled for a hearing before the Campbell Planning Commission April 16.

Hearing on Pollard-More improvements

Campbell city councilmen have scheduled a public hearing for April 23 to discuss funding improvements for the intersection of Pollard Road and More Avenue. The original San Tomas target area has been expanded to include this intersection. Funding for needed projects would come from federal housing and community development funds.

What are Carie Johnson and Robert Button doing? For the story see pg. 11 of today's PRESS.

Rain drop report

The "best storm of the season" rolled into Campbell Monday at 3 p.m. and by Tuesday morning at 8 it had dropped 1.56 inches of rain with more expected. According to Bob James of the Campbell Water Company that brings our season total to 11.57 inches, close to the normal for March 27 of 13.72. We're still way behind last year, one of the wettest on record, when 21.19 inches of the wet stuff had fallen by this time.

'Just don't close my school'

No surprises at hearings

A SERIES of public hearings to discuss guidelines for closing schools in the Campbell Union High School District has provided few surprises, say district officials. People generally support the eight criteria set down by a district task force last year.

But people also want the priority of those guidelines applied to insure their school won't be one of those closed.

Three public meetings on the issue have been held with a fourth scheduled for Tuesday, April 3 at 7:30 p.m. at Branham High School

Trustees, taking a look at the sharply declining enrollment, announced earlier they plan to close at least one of the district's eight schools in June, 1980. Which school or schools to shut down is what the meetings are supposed to help decide.

Officials expect to make their decision before the end of this school year so incoming freshmen will be able to transfer to the high school they'll attend all four years.

AT THE April 24 board meeting trustees will consider criteria drawn up by the district committee, the results of the four hearings, and approve guidelines they'll use in making a final decision.

While the public has shown general support for the eight criteria drawn up by the committee, some school communities would like the ranking changed. Campbell High School is one of these.

At the bottom of the list of criteria is "the tradition of the school in the community." As the first school in the district and with a long history of close ties with the City of Campbell, Campbell High School would be relatively safe from closure if "tradition" was at the top of the list, instead of the bottom.

THE EIGHT criteria drawn up by the committee, ranked in the order of their importance are:

- Student population relocation. The highest priority for school closure should be based on the fewest number of students being forced to relocate.
- Site operational costs and maintenance needs (which school is most expensive to maintain?).
- Specialized facilities and programs which cannot be provided at any other school in the district.
- Enrollment and attendance factors such as future enrollment projections.
- Community and staff support and achievement. The individual achievement of students and community support in terms of scholarships and community interest.
- Potential site use factors. What use can be made of the school after closure?
- Site capacity or how the closing of a particular school would affect other schools in the district.
- Physical factors and the tradition of the school in the community.

IF THESE guidelines are adopted by trustees a school with a large student population, low maintenance costs and new single family homes under construction in the area would be able to breathe a sigh of relief.

And it wouldn't hurt if there were also specialized programs that couldn't be offered at other schools ... and a raft of scholarships awarded to graduating seniors each year.

Insensitive people are infuriating!

CAN SOMETHING BE done about people who park in spaces reserved for handicapped persons only?

One place in particular is near the Social Security office in Koll Park (on Hamilton Avenue). I work in the area and every day the same cars are parked in the spaces marked for handicapped persons only. These people are not handicapped. They are employees of some of the offices.

One day I saw a cerebral palsy victim on crutches fall after he had "walked" to his vehicle from the Social Security office. He had to park in the back, where there were plenty of spaces, but almost 10 times the distance he would have had to go had one of the reserved spaces been vacant.

On another occasion I saw a person come out of an office and move their car because a tow truck had pulled into the lot. After the tow truck left that person moved their car back into the reserved space.

These insensitive people are infuriating. They should be thankful they have two good legs to walk on and be glad to walk a little further, instead of seeing how close they can park to their office.

An Irate Citizen

Editor's note: According to a Campbell Police Department spokesman there is no recourse through police agencies for the problem you describe since it occurred on private property. The suggestion was made that you contact the owner of the business center. If the owner accepts liability and properly posts special parking zones he or she can have illegally parked cars towed away. Another, more direct approach, is to talk to the people who are parking in those spaces. If you feel this might start a feud in the office complex you might clip this item from the paper and leave it on the next car you see incorrectly parked in a handicapped space.

What happened? Isn't our editor going to speak anymore? That was the only real "live" thing in the paper! I do hope you are on a vacation or something.

Hearing on park lighting

To light or not to light park... that is the question

By CHRISTINE LEWIS

A RECOMMENDATION to provide outdoor lights for the newest softball field at John D. Morgan Park was eyed skeptically Monday night by the Campbell City Council.

Expressing concern about how residents of the area would react to night activities at the park, the council set a public hearing for April 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chamber to air the matter.

The city's Park and Recreation Commission had unanimously recommended approval of the lighting proposal, even if at the expense of other facilities planned for the John D. Morgan Park Improvement Project.

Councilman Dean Chamberlin questioned the "inference" at the meeting that few residents opposed the lights and the total capital investment required.

"That amount of money represents a lot of things which the people of Campbell need, worse than another half hour or hour tacked on the end of a baseball game," Chamberlin chided.

THE LIGHTS would cost approximately $65,000 for installation, according to Joe Elliott, director of public works. He estimated a $29,000 shortage of funds for the park improvements if lighting is approved.

The city presently has $145,500 available for the park improvement project, garnered from four different funds and a $16,000 donation from the Kiwanis Club, Elliott reported. He roughly estimated that $174,300 is needed for the total park improvements.

Elliott said the lighting would require added maintenance costs, such as contracting use of special boom trucks to reach the tops of the light poles. He had not calculated the cost of power consumption to the city.

Dewey Reed, chairman of the Park and Recreation Commission, pointed out that the lighting design proposal would illuminate both the soccer and softball fields.

Reed spoke in favor of the expenditure, arguing that both sports offer low-cost recreation for many, that use of facilities reduces vandalism, and lights would not be operated past 10 p.m.

"We feel the majority of the neighborhood and community is with us," Reed said, noting an informal public hearing was held on March 1 for all interested persons which included area residents.

VICE MAYOR Rusty Hammer expressed concern about funding for supervisory activities and night patrols. Most community services employees who supervise the activities are funded through the CETA program, Hammer noted, and may not be funded after September.

"I am reluctant to open up the park to night activity as long as we don't know whether we will have the staff to supervise that night activity," Hammer said.

For the upcoming public hearing, the council requested the Park and Recreation Commission consider alternative methods of funding the added cost of maintenance and power. They also requested an alternative recommendation for recreation improvements at the park should the lighting be denied.

At the suggestion of Hammer, the council also called for a report from the chief of police on the effects of night games in attracting undesirable elements.

Beadle seeks use permit for bathhouse

THE application for a use permit to allow a bathhouse on East Campbell Avenue and 22 townhomes on West Rincon Avenue are among the issues to be considered by the Campbell planning commission at its Tuesday, April 3 meeting. Sessions start at 7:30 in the Council Chamber, 75 N. Central Ave.

Samuel A. Beadle, Jr. has proposed converting the building at 266 E. Campbell Ave. into the city's first bathhouse. The public hearing on the use permit application for the building located in a planned development/commercial zoning district was continued from an earlier commission meeting.

The commission is also scheduled to consider plans by Eldred Kunkel to build 22 townhomes at 425 W. Rincon Ave. in a low-medium density residential zoning district.

A public hearing has also been set for the application for a use permit by Daniel Gallager and Charles Hill to place auto showrooms at 37 S. Fourth St. and 46 E. Campbell Ave.

The buildings are located in a planned development/ commercial district, and would be the home of specialty cars priced above $25,000 each, according to the application for the permit.

Other items on the agenda include:

• The continued application of Paul S. Heath to build three residential units at the rear of 1177 Smith Ave. in an interim zoning district.

• The hearing continued public hearing on the application of Robert Raffanti to remodel the exterior of the building at 260 and 266 E. Campbell Ave. in a planned development/-commercial zoning district.

• A public hearing to consider the application of Val C. McMurdie and Paul W. Lasley for a use permit and approval of plans for a 23-condominium project at 440 and 480 W. Hacienda Ave. in an interim zoning district.

• A hearing to consider the application of Thomas Schwoob for a use permit to allow construction of eight single-family homes at 1115 Harriet Ave. in an interim zoning district.

Fools' run

The Athletic Attic and Radio Station KEZR will present the first Fool's Parade/Seven-mile Run through Saratoga April Fool's day.

The run will start at 10 a.m. at the El Paseo de Saratoga shopping center at Campbell and Saratoga Avenues, and will go through the backstreets and scenic routes of Saratoga.

Registration forms are available at The Athletic Attics in El Paseo de Saratoga and at San Jose state university. Net proceeds from the race will go to the San Jose Special Olympics Committee.

Computer for the college?

West Valley College District Trustees are considering installing an integrated district data processing master plan estimated to cost the district $88,000.

Plans call for the use of data processing in four areas; instruction, word processing and photo typesetting, library automation and administrative computing.

The trustees heard half a lengthy report on the computer's advantages at a recent meeting, and continued the matter to their April 5 meeting.

Norm Paul begins second term

The new mayor's political career began over a glass of rootbeer at local eatery

By MARK BOSNEAG

COMMUNICATION is Norm Paul's life.

It was communication which brought Paul to the Bay Area back in 1946, it's the way he now feeds his family, and it is what Campbell's new mayor said may be the biggest difficulty facing government today.

Paul, who began a one-year term as mayor Monday, said one of the most important things he can do as mayor is to be sure the lines of communication between the various levels of government remain open.

"Government is so complex today," he said, "that it doesn't matter what issue you're talking about, there will be any number of governmental bodies involved in the issue. All these governments have to be able to work together to come up with the best solutions.

"WHEN I WAS mayor before (1974-75), cooperation between levels of government was a problem," he continued. "It's still a problem, and might become one of those things that are debated forever."

Paul hopes that in her second term as mayor he will be able to communicate well with other governmental bodies he will come in contact with. This communication should be no problem — if experience is any indicator.

Paul's experience in professional communication began while making training films for the Army during World War II. "When the war ended, one of his army buddies decided to start a pair of small radio stations in San Jose. The friend summoned Paul from Rockford, Ill., where he was working at a radio station, to become program director at KSJO-AM and KSJO-FM. The AM station's call letters would later be changed to KLIV.

After years as a charter member of the radio stations' staff, Paul went on to become public relations director for the downtown San Jose merchants' association, and later local sales manager for KNTV in San Jose.

IN 1965, PAUL again traded hats and became part owner of the Plaza Theaters in Campbell; a business interest he later sold. Later he started his present business, Norman Paul's Print Center on Winchester Boulevard.

The various jobs have had one similarity — they all deal with communication.

But the 57-year-old's interest in politics goes back even further than his experience in communication.

"Way back in high school I was interested in politics," he explained. "I was always reading about politics and government.

"At that time, I considered myself a flaming liberal, but that's changed," he said in the office of his print shop. "It's not that I'm older and wiser now, but that the term 'liberal' has been so misused.

"To me, being liberal means having an open mind, not giving the store away. So when some people call me a liberal, I guess they're right if it means I have an open mind, but not if they mean I waste money."

A seven-year veteran of Campbell City Council, this will be Paul's second term as mayor. Under Campbell's form of government, council members serve one-year mayoral terms on a rotating basis.

ALTHOUGH PAUL said the mayor's job is primarily ceremonial, he said it will take up a great deal more time than his present duties as councilman. The mayor represents the city in meetings with other governmental agencies, and in such affairs as ribbon cuttings for new businesses. He also must play host to visiting dignitaries.

"I don't know where I'll find the time to perform the extra duties being mayor entails, but I'm sure I will," the native Chicagoan said.

"I'm glad we take turns being mayor for only a year," he said. "It takes so much time and energy out of you."

Paul said he could not count the number of hours per week he spends on council business, but said his $150 per month salary "must work out to about a nickel an hour."

BUT PAUL'S not complaining. He said he enjoys the challenge of local government, which he first became involved with in the late 1960s when he volunteered to do public relations work for a citizen's bond committee which was studying the feasibility of the building a new city hall, library and fire station.

He was still working with the group in the summer of 1969, when Councilman Ralph Doetsch approached him as he ate lunch at a Winchester Boulevard hamburger stand and asked him if he would be interested in being appointed to the city Planning Commission.

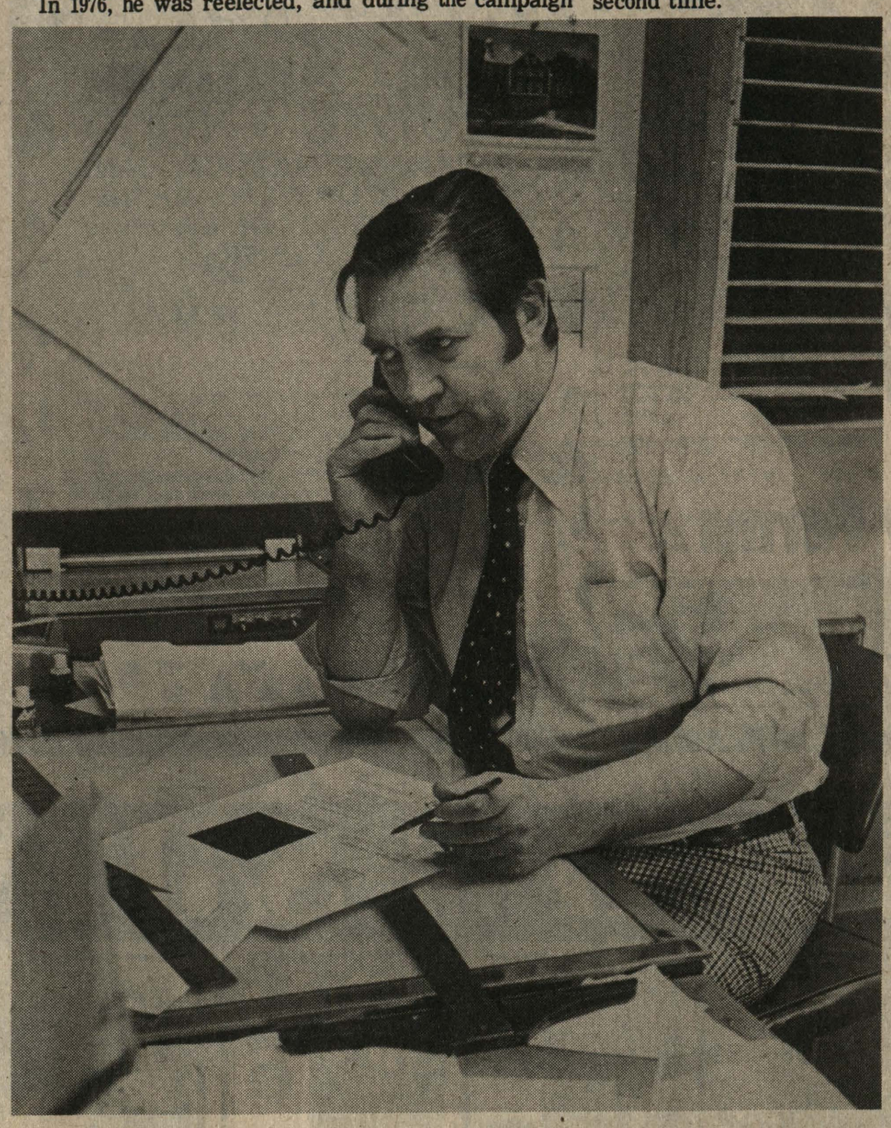
He agreed between sips of root beer, and his life as a public official began.

Paul decided to run for the city council in 1972, and captured a seat on the first trv.

In 1976, he was reelected, and during the campaign stated that he would not run again in 1980 because Campbell needs new faces on the council.

NOW, HOWEVER, he has added a proviso to that statement. He said he doesn't plan to run again "unless something comes up which would lead me to change my mind." Nothing has come.

But that's off in the future, Paul said. For the moment, he'll have to get used to cutting ribbons, kissing babies, and responding to being called "Mr. Mayor" . . . for a second time.



MAYOR Norm Paul feels a big issue in Campbell this year will be the future of the old Campbell Grammar School. "I'm not quite certain what the city's role is but, by all means, that building has to be saved and I'm going to work toward that end," Paul declared. "That building has an historical significance to the community."

Like real Italian Scampi, these tender shrimp saute briefly in hot lemon-garlic butter, with a dash of lemon peel and a pinch of parsley. They make a cozy dinner for two.

About ¾ pound medium-size raw shrimp, shelled and deveined
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon minced green onion
1 tablespoon olive oil or salad oil
4 to 5 cloves garlic, minced or pressed
2 teaspoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons minced parsley
¼ teaspoon grated lemon peel
Dash of liquid hot pepper seasoning
Lemon wedges

Pat shrimp dry on paper towels; set aside. In a wide frying pan, melt butter over medium heat. Stir in onion, oil, garlic, lemon juice, and salt; cook until bubbly.

Add shrimp to pan and cook, stirring occasionally, until shrimp turn pink (about 5 minutes). Blend in parsley, lemon peel, and hot pepper seasoning; turn into serving dish. Garnish with lemon wedges to squeeze over each serving. Makes 2 servings.

Voucher system: chaos or choice?

By ROBERT RUDY

ON THE SURFACE the idea seems simple: Parents of school age children would be given public money to pay tuition for their child's education at the school of their choice instead of the present system in which public money goes directly to the schools.

The idea, called school vouchers, has come and gone several times for well over a hundred years without much support. Until now.

A statewide initiative to amend the state constitution, called the Family Choice Education Initiative, is being proposed to make California the first state to establish a voucher system. It would include public, private nonsectarian and religious schools.

IN ORDER to qualify for the June 3, 1980 ballot, 500,000 petition signatures will be needed by the November deadline. Education by Choice, a pro-voucher group with committees in Northern and Southern California, has already begun to raise money and will begin its petition drive in earnest early this summer.

Proponents of the initiative see the voucher system as a means of giving parents more direct control over their children's education and preventing further deterioration of public education.

Opponents contend that such a measure would create a bureaucratic mess and could destroy the public school system as we know it.

"If you change it (the public school system) to a public-private combination," said Donald McKinley, the state's chief deputy superintendent of public instruction, "you are going to change the whole structure of society. If this thing passed, we'd see a scramble of confusion for many years to come."

CONFUSION may result from the wording of the initiative itself. As a constitutional amendment, the measure must contain fairly general language. Specifics would have to come from the Legislature, which is charged by the initiative with setting up standards under which the voucher system would operate.

Nevertheless, the initiative does contain the following provisions:

- Requires the Legislature to assure that private and public voucher schools, called scholarship schools, be established in sufficient numbers to accommodate at least 30 percent of the school population.
- Requires the Legislature to adopt standards that guarantee open access to all children and prohibit discrimination based on race, religion or sex.
- Requires the establishment of a system of information to help parents select voucher schools for their children.
- Allows parents to purchase so-called supplementary vouchers for tuition at high-cost private or public scholarship schools. The cost would be based on a sliding scale with poor parents paying much less than wealthier parents.

REQUIRES THAT the system be phased-in according to a gradual six-year schedule starting July 1, 1982.

- Allows the Legislature to repeal the initiative after June 1, 1999 by a two-thirds vote of both the Assembly and the Senate.
- Provides that if any portion of the initiative is found to be constitutionally invalid that the remainder shall continue as state law.

According to John Coons, a UC Berkeley law professor who co-authored the initiative, the most appealing aspects of the voucher system are choice and competition. With parents having the opportunity to choose schools, they will also have a greater voice in the control and quality of the schools.

As a result of having choices, Coons said, voucher schools, both private and public, will be competing with non-voucher schools for students and that situation will force the latter schools to improve.

CONTRARY to what many public school officials believe, Coons said the voucher system would actually make the schools less bureaucratic.

"It's not that private schools would become overregulated," he said, "but that public schools would be liberated from the strangulation of educational code" that creates all the red tape and wasteful spending.

Many public school officials also fear that the system would cause the upper and middle-classes to choose the private and public scholarship schools, thus leaving the poor in the public non-scholarship schools.

But Coons maintained that private schools as they are now are capturing more and more of the middle-class. "If we can catch the middle-class before it's gone, as our voucher system does, then we can save the capacity of the entire system to work well."

COONS SAID he is hopeful that people will see the positive aspects of the voucher system and support it. He added that a recent poll of 900 people statewide, done by his own staff, showed 59 percent in favor of some sort of scholarship system.

Some opponents, however, claim that the support Coons speaks of is not so much for vouchers as it is a reflection of the public mood that made the passage of Proposition 13 possible.

"Anytime you cut money, as Proposition 13 did, you alienate some people," said McKinley, "and when that happens you can get support for an alternative system."

"The pubsh for school vouchers has a Proposition 13 flavor," said James Catterall, an institute fellow at Stanford University's Institute for Research on Educational Finance and Governance. "It is once again an attempt to penetrate deep into the institutional and financial structure of the state by means of a direct vote of the people."

Young scientists display their prowess

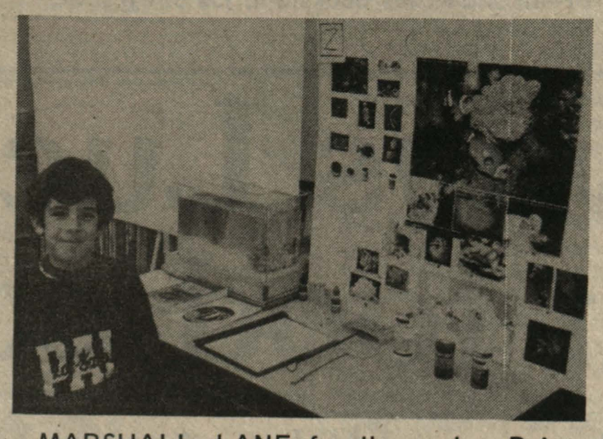
"HOW A Chicken Embro Develops," "Yeast," "ESP and Biorhythms," and "Effects of Smoking on People" were among the prize-winning projects at the Campbell Union School District's annual science fair held March 10.

Castlemont student Danny Paris' embryo project earned him a tie for first place with Marshall Lane's Kelly McFadden and her "Migration of the Monarch" project in the fourth grade zoology division.

Forest Hill School students Mike Johnson and Alicia I. Kolstad tied for first place in the fourth grade botany division. Johnson studied "Bacteria at Forest Hill," while Kolstad's project dealt with "Migration of the Monarch."

John Mulder of Sherman Oaks, studying "Electric Motors — SOS 1," and Julie Chisholm of Monroe, working with "Crown of Cups — Electricity," tied for first in the fourth grade physical science category.



MARSHALL LANE fourth grader Brian Klass appears quite proud of his project titled "Tropical Salt Water Fish." He has reason to be — the project won an honorable mention in the fourth grade zoology division at the annual Science Fair of the Campbell Union School District.

OTHER FOURTH grade winners were Leigh Bischoff of Marshall Lane in the medicine/health category with "Color Vision," and Brian Accord of Forest Hill in the earth/space science competition with "A Special Kind of Mountain."

In the fifth grade competitions, Keith Beggs of Castlemont won the botany prize with his study of "Osmosis," and Carrie Liebert of Forest Hill won in the zoology department with her project, "Quails."

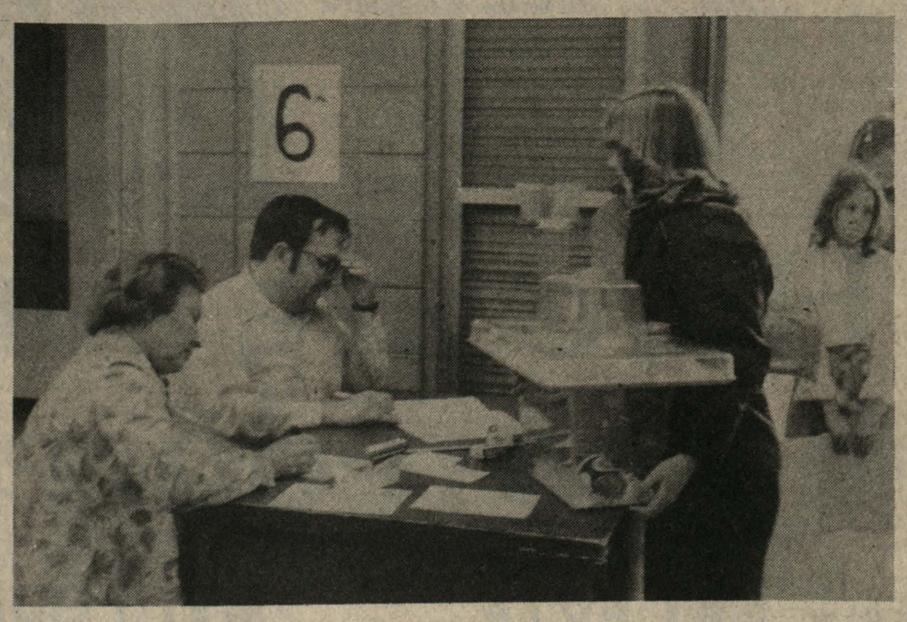
In the fifth grade earth/space science category, Michelle Figini won with "The History of Navigation and Celestial Navagation."

MARSHALL LANE sixth grader Beth Kilcoyne won the botany award in her grade with her study of "Yeast," while classmate Sunshine Dewitt's "Types of Spiders" project won the zoology prize.



BETH SCHUSTER, an eighth grade student at St. Lucy's School, registers her project, "Hamsters (Maze Speed)" at the science fair. Working the registration desk are Vilma Blyther, Castlemont School Principal and Bill Fletcher, school coordinator. Schuster won the first place award in the eighth grade zoology division.

Eric Gellerman of Castlemont and Derek Taylor of Marshall Lane tied for first place in the sixth grade medicine/health category. Gellerman studied "The Effects of Smoking on People," while Taylor's project concerned "ESP and Bio-rhythms.

Hazelwood School student Linda San Miquel's "Water" and Castlemont student Heidi Herschback's "Crystals" projects tied in the sixth grade earth/space category, and Marshall Lane sixth grader Brad Peeks won the physical science category with his entry, "Light."

Mike Mattingly of Campbell Junior High School won the lone first place award for seven graders with his "Plate Tectonics," entered in the physical science category.

St. Lucy's School classmates Beth Schuster and David Moore won the eight grade prizes. Schuster's "Hamsters (maze speed)" project won the zoology award, while Moore's "A Still" won in the physical science category.

History Club

"A Toast to the Arts" is the theme of the annual Art Faire sponsored by the History Club of Los Gatos. The event is set for Saturday, April 7 and Sunday, April 8.

Any artist who wishes to display arts or crafts at the faire should contact Carmel Foglia, coordinator, at 378-6650 for more information.

Couple wed at St. Martin's

JUDY ANN Miles of Campbell and Paul J. Ratajczak, Jr. of San Jose were married in February and are now making their home in San Jose.

The bride chose a floor length gown with alcanon lace and a chapel-length veil trimmed with seed pearl and lace. Her bouquet was of roses with mums and baby's breath.

Bridal attendants wore floor length chiffon gowns in violet and lilac shades and carried bouquets of lavender mums and baby's breath.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Miles of Campbell, is a 1974 graduate of Campbell High School.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raul J. Ratajczauak, Sr. of Hollister, is a 1971 graduate of Bellarmine College Preparatory School and is manager of a San Jose carpet store.

Peggy Miles, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Diana Pyle, Debbie Smith and Jane Miceli.

Mary Kay Fitzpatrick was vocalist at the wedding at St. Martin of Tours Church is San Jose. Father Merv Sullivan officiated.

KEY BUYS

Many manufacturers give supermarkets a temporary promotional allowance to help stimulate sales on certain items. We call them "Key Buys" and they represent these temporary promotional allowances or exceptional purchases, and normally carry a lower price than our already low everyday price. The big difference is that Lucky passes these savings on to its customers!

VALU-FINDER

The next time you shop Lucky, be certain to look for your free copy of our weekly Valu-Finder. It lists many of our Key Buys and new items as well as everyday low prices ... many more than space permits us to list in our weekly newspaper advertisements. Valu-Finder items are also identified on shelves with a special tag so you won't miss them. Another way Lucky helps to reduce your weekly food costs!

Guaranteed Value Per Measure

Many shoppers assume the larger size of a product is a better buy than the smaller size. This isn't always true. At Lucky there's no guess work. Lucky does all the complicated calculations for you and the "Guaranteed Value Per Measure" policy guarantees the larger size is always a better buy than the next smaller one. In rare cases where this is not true, Lucky customers are informed of this fact by special shelf signs.

Dining out / Like exotic food? Here are some tips

By BEA RENE

SINCE MANY readers thanked me for tipping them off about the East Indian restaurant in San Mateo (The Mandalay), they've asked for more foreign restaurants located right here on the Peninsula. After all, travel can become downright tedious, and dining in a strange city can also become a gastronomic disaster. So, if you're in an adventurous mood, here's some good ones to try, which I can truly recommend:

BALKAN VILLAGE: A renowned supper club, serving Middle Eastern fare in exotic surroundings . . . owned by show-biz personality, Louis Gundunas, famous for his stage role in "Zorba." Louis and son, Peter, brilliantly perform the difficult "Ouzo Table Dance" for two dinner shows in addition to both female and male belly dancers. Excellent cuisine includes my favorite Lamb Kapama or Mousaka. Dinners include soup Avgolegono, tossed salad, coffee or tea and Baklava. Dinners Monday-Saturday. There is a special Friday buffet with entertainment by John "The Sheik," a belly dancer, (women love him, throw money and scream). Located at 4898 El Camino Real, Los Altos. Tel. 968-7251.

GYPSY CELLAR: When the gypsy steps to your table playing lilting violin music, it will be owner, Jan Novak, accompanied by "Jara" at the piano. Both performed for great symphonies and were formerly with the Russian Renaissance in San Francisco. Under a draped tent-like ceiling, John offers Hungarian, Czechoslovakian, Russian and Romanian dishes. Complete with fresh flowers, candlelight and fine wines, a romantic European dining haven. Try Juliska Paprikas with Hungarian goulash soup — ala carte or full dinners. Now open for lunch Tuesday-Friday, 11:30-2 p.m.; dinner Tuesday-Saturday 5:30-11 p.m. Located at 3151 Middlefield Rd., Redwood City. Call 367-1166.

MENARA MOROCCAN RESTAURANT: The excitement of a visit to the city of Tangier can be experienced right here in San Jose . . . a costumed hostess will seat you on lush cushions embraced by pillows, in front of a hand-tooled brass table, on which your elegant multi-course feast is served by fez-capped waiters. Enjoy gourmet specialties such as Lamb and honey, Chicken with Lemon, Couscous and a big favorite — Bastilla. Entertaining belly dancing is provided on weekends, and you can be assured this will long be a night to remember. Three dinner combinations are available: $12.95, $13.95 and $14.95 — all generous and completely satisfying. Enjoy your adventure in Casablanca at 41 E. Gish Rd., San Jose (next to Le Baron Hotel). Telephone 998-1583.

Another new European restaurant is the Adriatic, at 14583 Big Basin Way, Saratoga (Tel. 867-3110). Mediterranean/Continental cuisine: Supreme de Capon Srem, Original Wiener Schnitzel, Hungarian Burgundy Bulash, Escalope de Veau Orloff (the best white veal) — homemade soups & salads — dinner served from 6 p.m. till closing. (Lunch soon.) Charming host Ed Begovic welcomes you to his intimate hideway. Here's a good tip.

MENU CODE BREAKERS:

Juliska Paprikas — (Hungarian) Goulash made with tender pieces of chicken in sour cream paprika sauce and spetzels or Bohemian dumplings.

Chicken a la Kiev — (French) Boned chicken breasts rolled around sweet butter than fastened at all edges, then rolled in flour, egg and bread crumbs — deep fried.

Moussaka — (Middle Eastern) Eggplant and ground meat (lamb) dish usually baked or steamed in a mold.

His Johannisberg Rieslings are the rage

By MARY LESTER

RICHARD Arrowood is the vice president-general manager-winemaker for Chateau St. Jean, Inc., a winery located in Sonoma County. Most of the fans of the fabulous wines from Chateau St. Jean don't know and couldn't care less about Dick's titles other than winemaker. For he, at 32, is one of the most discussed winemakers on the international wine scene and it's all because of his style for making Johannisberg Rieslings. I should say styles, though, because there are eight different J.R.'s from the 1977 vintage now on the market.

Before Dick popularized the making of late harvest J. Rieslings, only a few had been put out in California. The first year-in-, year-out was when Llords & Elwood came forth in 1966 with their Castle Magic J.R. Although it was never advertised as a "late harvest," it has been a consistent best seller. But, publicity wise, they were too soon and the public was not ready for accepting that type of wine as being the glory it is. In 1974, Beaulieu, Sonoma Vineyards and Wente had Rieslings that were late harvests. But, it took Dick to bring this particular style into every wine lover's domain and to introduce several types of Rieslings other than the ons we have come to expect from California.

Here are my tasting notes on Chateau St. Jean's eight Johannisberg Rieslings, Vintage 1977:

REMEMBER now, it is most important that you look at the label and carefully read what it says. Otherwise, particularly in the Chateau St. Jean Johannisberg Riesling wines of 1977, you will be buying a wine that isn't at all what you thought you bought.

(1) Ch. St. Jean Sonoma County J.R. is the driest of the J.R.'s as far as natural sugar content. The alcohol is not quite 12% (2) Alexander Valley, Belle Terre Vineyards is a mite sweeter in taste but still dry. (3) The Alexander Valley, Robert Young Vineyard has even less natural sugar with the alcohol being almost 11%. Each of these wines, though, are dry table wines and can be used for anything that J.R.'s could always be used for.

(4) J.R. Mendocino County Late Harvest, Victor Matheu Vineyards: the nose has a sherry-like smell and the same taste. It is deeper gold than the previous three. (5) Mendocino County J.R., Selected Late Harvest, Cole Ranch. This is sold only at the tasting room and out of state. I thought it gorgeous. Very limited supply and hence the sales. (6) Alexander Valley J.R. Selected Late Harvest, Belle Terre Vineyard. It is much deeper in color than four and five and has an apricot nose and honey taste. Worth much more than $10. It would go great with fruit, cheese and drinking by itself. (7) Alexander Valley Selected Late Harvest, Robert Young Vineyard, only 350 cases. A gift of the gods. $15. (8) Alexander Valley J.R. Individual Bunch Selected Late Harvest comes only in 10th sizes at $14. Superb. Semi-sweet and what wine of that type is all about.

ON THE wine memory trail: I met Dick Arrowood at the San Francisco Airport in 1968 journeying to a meeting of the American Society of Enologists in Santa Barbara of which I'm one of the first elected non-chemists. Dick, an enology student-winery employee, was with his first wine boss, Allan Hemphill, winemaker of Korbel. Voila! For the past year, Allan has been president of Chateau St. Jean and the two men are now together again making dreams of superb wines come true. Blessings.

Beware of outrageously priced "cult cars"

By SLIM INGHAM

Send all mail for this column to Consumers United, P.O. Box 311, Palo Alto, CA. 94302 or call 494-1858 for consumer advice.

My son is interested in a '68 Mustang that will cost him $3,100 from the used car lot. It's a good looking car and only has 46,000 miles on it. The other '68 cars I've seen have gone for less than $700. What accounts for this very high price and is it justified?

Mrs. A.V. Justine, Santa Clara

The Mustang is a good car and has become a cult car which accounts for the extreme prices being asked. The car your son is considering is priced higher than its new price.

The true mileage is probably 146,000 miles or more, which is only 13,270 miles per year. It's improbable that only 4,200 miles per year as shown on the odometer is the true mileage.

If your son does get this car at that exhorbitant price ($1,600 is fair market value for mint condition or fully restored) have him get a 443 form from the Department of Motor Vehicles, fill it out and send it to Sacramento.

This will get a history check on the car showing mileage at past times of ownership. If you can show that the odometer has been altered or a misstatement appears on the contract of sale, a $1,500 penalty is in order as per federal and state statutes.

We are thinking of insulating our older home (28 yrs.) and would like your recommendations as to what type to use and the benefits involved as opposed to cost.

John Beauvoir, San Jose.

The benefits are many — fuel savings in the two bedroom home are such that the cost of insulation can be amortized in five years or less. Much less if you have air conditioning.

The cost of blow-in cellulose insulation for your home (attic only) should not exceed $325. These insulation materials are fire resistant, non-packing, rodent proof and non-toxic. One supplemental advantage is that the material applied in your attic is also good acoustic insulation and will quiet your house considerably.

Insulation is also a tax break where some of the costs can be written off. Do it!

Consumers United recommends Alten Associates in Mountain View, Coast Insulation Company in Menlo Park or Sears as reputable installers of a quality product at a reasonable price.

I've heard Slim Ingham of Consumers United on Radio station KEEN in San Jose. I think it's improper that a representative of a non-profit, incorporated organization should profit by collecting for this radio work even though it's done for the benefit of the consumer.

Allen E. Dupre, San Jose.

These 30 one-minute consumer spots were done on a no fee basis as a public service — check with the station.

Call or write Consumers United to arrange for the services of a speaker to inform your club, group or class as to how to get much more mileage on your hard earned dollar. You may think you know all the traps that exist in the market — you don't!

Olga / Spring's in the air and your heart, Taurus

March 31 through April 6

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Yours is an aggressive, impulsive, executive sign, Ari, and you must lead. If others wish to follow, fine and dandy, if not — you go it alone. Week ahead favorable for promoting your views.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Opposites attract and secrets are whispered. Spring is in the air and in your heart, Taurus. As April Fool's Week skips to a close, you make interesting connection and week ends with a giggle.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Cycle high as April Fool's Day comes and goes. Channel energies toward worthwhile project, Gem, and don't allow pinhead to bog you down with petty criticism. Last day for lovers. Go to it.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Progress can be made toward personal goals, Moonbaby, so long as you don't overload that marvelous computer you have between your ears. Take time for a little foolishness, fun and flapdoodle.

LEO (July 23 - August 22): Energy returns and you want to babble endlessly concerning personal plans. There's just no delicate way to tell you, Leo, so I'll say it flat out: Shut your big mouth! Remember, love, the fool who remains silent often passes for a sage.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): After rather routine beginning, the whole roof caves in as April Foolishness abounds. Before week is over, Aries strides on stage and tries to step on your lines. Fat chance! Week ends with a holler.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Much of pressure you feel, Libra my love, is of your own doing. You must insist that others pull their share of the load. After the expected grumbling and groaning subsides, respect follows.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): You feel foolish — you feel flighty — you feel flaky and fizzy and flirty. It's just that Old Spring Thing, Scrop, and you can't fight it. So relax — give in — enjoy!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Ideal week to dig in, take root and prepare for personal growth. April showers really do bring May flowers, Saj, and even more — they help wash away those tired, old winter blahs! You'll see.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): This is week to finish, complete, end that which has been hanging heavy over your head. Then, Cap, answer that buzzer in your belly. You know, the one that always goes off when springtime arrives.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Concentrate on writing, publishing, promoting. Clear desk of clutter and your mind of prejudice. You're definitely a comer, Aquari. This week you can take one giant step toward personal goal. Simon sez. So does Olga.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Plan, plan, plan. Make plans concerning budget, travel, wardrobe, romance. Leave nothing to chance, little fish, or you wind up swimming in proverbial circle — chasing your own tail. Boring, to say the least. The very least.

National Smoker Study Hails Merit.

'Enriched Flavor'™ cigarette scores high marks in five key areas.

Can MERIT deliver the flavor of leading high tar brands?

Does MERIT satisfy smokers over a long period—or are MERIT smokers slipping back to old high tar favorites?

Read the bottom-line results of research conducted with smokers like yourself.

MERIT Breakthrough Confirmed

Confirmed: Majority of smokers rate MERIT taste equal to—or better than—leading high tar cigarettes tested! Cigarettes having up to twice the tar.

Confirmed: Majority of smokers confirm taste satisfaction of low tar MERIT.

And in detailed interviews conducted among current MERIT smokers:

Confirmed: 85% of MERIT smokers say it was an "easy switch" from high tar brands.

Confirmed: Overwhelming majority of MERIT smokers say their former high tar brands weren't missed!

Confirmed: 9 out of 10 MERIT smokers not considering other brands.

First Major Alternative To High Tar Smoking

MERIT has proven conclusively that it not only delivers the flavor of high tar brands—but continues to satisfy.

This ability to satisfy over long periods of time could be the most important evidence to date that MERIT is what it claims to be: The first major alternative to high tar smoking.

The battle of the sexes.... starts in the garage

By PAT SAFFORD

IF YOU want to give your husband a good horse laugh, women, just offer a suggestion the next time your car is acting up.

For some reason men never take women seriously when it comes to mechanical problems. In my case the mechanical IQ of both of us is about 54 (equally divided) but let something go wrong with the car and it becomes . . . "A Man's Problem."

What brought this to mind was an incident last week that involved a dead battery. But let me back up a bit.

About 10 years ago we had a temperamental car that wouldn't start 80 percent of the time. That is, unless I gave it a swift kick in the dashboard.

"There must be a short somewhere in the wiring," I reasoned aloud to my husband, "and when I kick it, it makes contact."

"Nonsense," was his disdainful reply. "It must be the battery."

Well, for weeks I kicked the car and drove it while he replaced the battery, celenoid (don't ask me how to spell it; I'm not mechanical), alternator, regulator and just about everything else that could have had anything to do with "starting a car" with absolutely no success . . . and with a price tag of just over $200.

Finally, he came back from one of his regular visits to our local mechanic with a solution.

"When we were looking under the hood today Jim found a loose wire and tightened it up," my husband explained. "And that did the trick, no more problems."

Last week for the 100th time we had another disagreement over a mechanical problem. This time it was with my son's car which hasn't been driven for months. The battery, naturally, is low.

"Give me a push to start the car," Ed said.

"But I drove that car for years and I could never get a start off of a push," I argued.

"I should know if the car will start or not," he countered. "Just give me a push and stop arguing."

And did I give him a push! We toured about half of our city, tied up Saturday afternoon traffic and learned how to travel 35 MPH in tandem on a straight-away.

Of course, the car didn't start.

After a couple of dozen more pushes the car was back at our house in the same condition it left a half-hour before.

"When I drove it the only way to get it started was with a jumper wire," I suggested sweetly.

My husband swore at me.

Our readers write

Guzman deserves praise

EDITOR:

This is a copy of a letter which I have sent to the carrier foreman of the Campbell Post Office. I was so impressed with Mr. Guzman's actions, I hope this can also be used in your Letters to the Editor column. I think it's most reassuring to hear about good things of this nature and thought others might feel this way as well.

DEAR SIR:

I am writing to commend one of your postal carriers, Art Guzman, and to bring to your attention his obvious commitment not only to his job but to his responsibilities as a citizen as well.

I happened to be out this morning when the mail was delivered, but Mr. Buzman was bothered by the fact that the garage door was open and a man was in the house. He took the time to ring the bell and, when no one would answer, went to the neighbors to let them know something was wrong.

He apparently came back to our house and was able to confront the man, asking for identification. When he was not satisfied with the identification Mr. Guzman then went back to the neighbors and asked that they call the police.

Our house is for sale and, as it turnsout, the man, a real estate agent, was here on legitimate business. However, this could just as easily have been a crime in progress and I cannot begin to thank Mr. Guzman enough not only for taking the time to ascertain if something was wrong but also for his bravery in confronting the man.

In these days, when there are so many negative feelings about government services as well as so many people who are not willing to "get involved" it is extremely reassuring to know that someone does indeed care and is very willing to be involved.

I had never before realized in what an excellent position the mailman is to observe the everyday happenings in a neighborhood. I feel very fortunate that a man of such vigilence and commitment to duty as Mr. Guzman is our carrier.

I would like to extend again my deepest thanks to Mr. Guzman — he is an outstanding example of a conscientious carrier and good citizen.

We need to hear from old timers

EDITOR:

Thank you for your recent articles regarding the Campbell Little League 25th anniversary celebration which will be held on Opening Day, April 21, at 9 a.m. at our Hamilton Avenue field.

We have heard from and talked with a number of the "old timers" in the league and have had donations of several photos from the early years.

However, we would very much like to hear from anyone who was involved in the league as a player, parent, coach, etc. . . particularily the years from 1954 to 1960. It seems that the details from these years are a little "fuzzy." We would also welcome any photos, newspapers articles, programs, etc. . . from those years.

All memorabilia we receive will be displayed in our new clubhouse on the day of the ceremonies.

We hope to have a grand reunion and invite everyone to participate.

If there are any questions I can be contacted at 378-9256.

CAMPBELL MOOSE LODGE

Melodrama and a vaudeville show will highlight the entertainment as the Campbell Moose Lodge and the Campbell Chapter of Women of the Moose provide an evening of entertainment, March 30 at 8 p.m., for senior citizens of the Campbell area.

The event at the Moose Lodge at 1580 Hamilton Ave., San Jose, will feature talented members of the lodge. Two plays will be presented — "The Miner's Daughter" and "Her Heart Belongs to Heartburn."

Refreshments will be served, and all persons 60 years of age and older will be admitted free.

Additional information is available by calling Ken Green, secretary of the lodge, at 264-1580.

JEWS FOR JESUS

"Christ in the Passover" will be the subject of a presentation by Al and Lois Brickner of Jews for Jesus April 3 at 6:30 p.m. at St. Lawrence Episcopal Church, 65 W. Rincon Ave.

The presentation, an abbreviated form of the Seder, will take place during Jews for Jesus' annual Lenten Supper program at the church.

The public has been invited to attend the event. More information is available by calling Gwen Hedlund at 379-9853.

CAMPBELL DOLPHINETTES

The Campbell Dolphinettes, a synchronized swim team, has been invited to perform at the University of California at Davis April 20-21 during the campus' annual picnic days.

The privately-funded club, which includes 52 girls ranging in age from seven to 19, will give three shows at the weekend event.

They were invited to Davis by Mary Jeffrey, a former Dolphinette, who now coaches the UC-Davis synchronized swim team.

Exercise class at the senior nutrition site

Local seniors are 'kicking' up their heels

WHAT'S SOFT, round and three feet wide? No, it's not a drop-out from a Weight Watcher's class. It's the giant ball, one of the props used in the senior citizen exercise class which meets twice a week at the Campbell Senior Nutrition Site on N. First Street, across from City Hall.

Every Tuesday and Thursday morning between 15 and 20 seniors, ranging in age from 60 to 92, keep themselves limbered up with leg lifts, throwing and kicking the giant ball and "getting sexy," an exercise where seniors put their hands on their hips and rotate their shoulders a la Mae West.

"I'm not very good at 'getting sexy,'" said Carie Johnson with a laugh. The 92-year-old local woman is the oldest member of the exercise class taught by Robert Button.

According to Button, now working on his master's degree in therapeutic recreation at San Jose State, the purpose of the class sponsored by West Valley College is three-fold. It helps seniors maintain some of the mobility they had when they were younger, increases sensory stimulation so seniors can be "more aware of their bodies" and is a good way to have fun.

THE IDEA is to keep the ball up in the air, not on the ground, explains instructor Robert Button to the local exercise class for senior citizens.

AND THE emphasis is on the latter, if the reaction of the class is any indication.

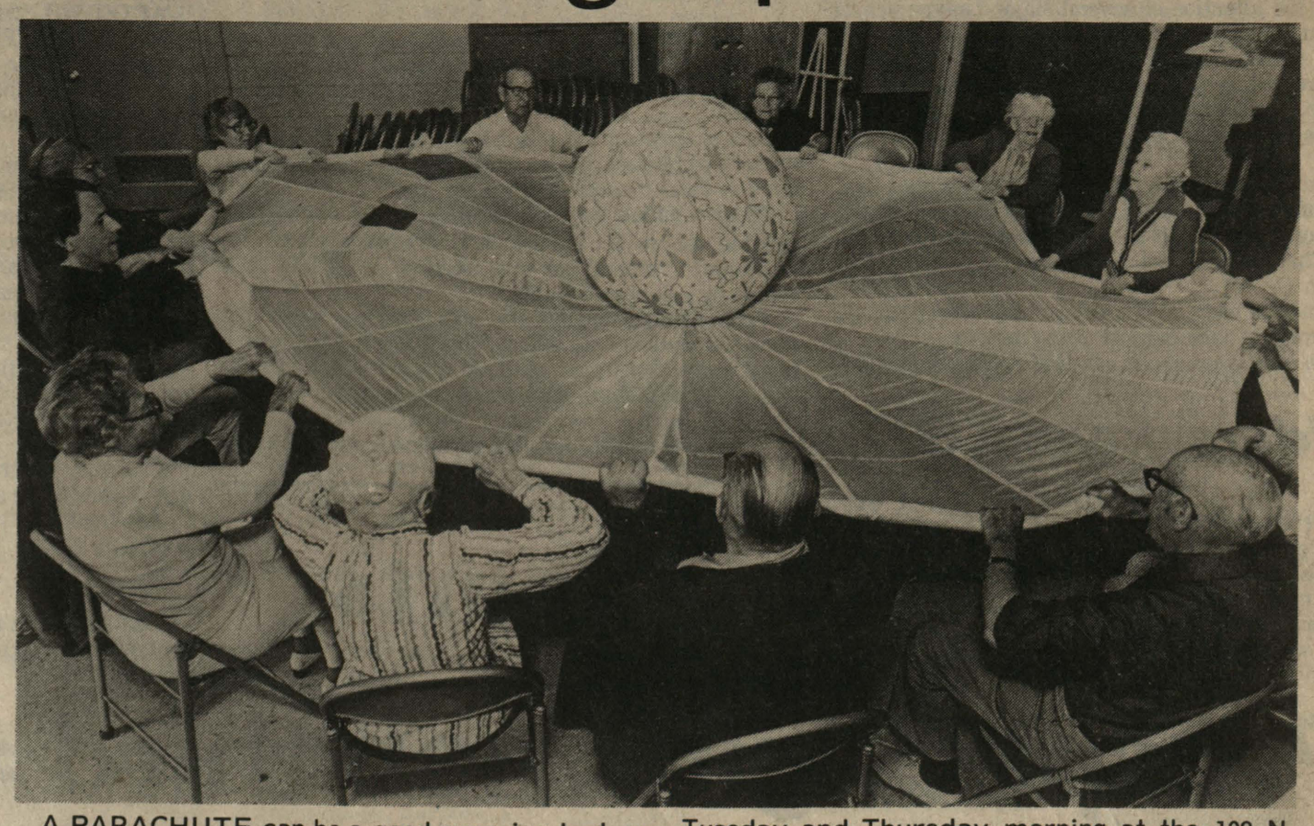
The 20-30 minute workouts have worked wonders, participants say. Johnson says she used to have trouble walking because of arthritis in her knees.

"But since I've been coming here, I can use my limbs much better," she declared.

The exercise class meets just before the meal program offered at the Grange Hall daily by the City of Campbell. Nearly 80 seniors come to the center weekdays to partake of the 75-cent lunches offered to those 60 years of age and older, according to Nancy Villeneuve, site manager.

After the class, most of the participants join the others in the meal. Exercise can really work up an appetite.

(Photography by Amy Huntoon)



A PARACHUTE can be a good exercise tool, as members of the exercise class for seniors learn at the local nutrition site. Classes are held each Tuesday and Thursday morning at the 109 N. First St. center.

Featured will be performances by the "Sharp Harps," the Ooh-La-La Can Can Girls, the Ray Toney Dancers and a melodrama titled "Curse You, Jack Dalton."

For more information, call 354-9562.

BACH, BORODIN, HAYDN AND BEETHOVEN

The West Valley Symphony Orchestra will present its second concert of the season Saturday, March 31, at 8 p.m. in the theater at West Valley College in Saratoga.

J. S. Bach's "Bradenburg" Concerto No. 2 will be the featured performance of the evening. Also on the program are "Finlandia" by Sibelius, "Polovetsian Dances" from "Prince Igor" by Borodin, Haydn's Symphony No. 98 and the "Coriolan" Overture by Beethoven.

Ross Bergantz, now in his seventh season with the orchestra, will conduct.

Admission to the concert is $2 for adults and $1 for students and seniors. Tickets are available at the Community Services Office, 44 E. Latimer Ave. For information call 379-9415.

Club celebrates 50th birthday

A wedding gown fashion show will be presented by the Women's Service Club of Campbell Wednesday, April 4 at 1 p.m. to mark the 50th anniversary of the group. Following the show, which will feature gowns from the past to the present, a Golden Reception will follow in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church of Campbell, 1675 S. Winchester Blvd. Above, model Marlene Summers previews one of the gowns to be shown with, from left, Slenna Wilson and Esther Arnold, co-chairmen of the event. Tickets, at $5 each will be available at the door or can be reserved by calling 378-3586.

Lansford homer KO's Campbell

WHILE HIS OLDER brother Carney Lansford attracted the attention of opposing pitchers last year with his torrid hitting for the California Angels, Jody Lansford was attracting the attention of several Major League scouts with his huge frame (6-4, 225 pounds) and ability to clout the ball a country mile.

Lansford displayed his longball prowess recently in a non-league game with Campbell high and it wound up costing the Buccaneers a 4-3 defeat.

Mired in a bit of an early season slump, the Wilcox first baseman unloaded on a Paul Sargis pitch leading off the ninth inning and drilled it to deep right-center for a solo home run that snapped a 3-3 tie and lifted the Warriors to a 4-3 victory.

The home run completed a Wilcox comeback that saw the Warriors fight back from 2-0 and 3-1 deficits.

"We ran ourselves out of a couple of scoring opportunities," said a disappointed Gordon Huntze, Campbell's head coach. "It was frustrating. Our defense hurt us in some key spots. But our bats are starting to come alive."

THE CAMPBELL defense committed three errors on the day, paving the way to two unearned Warrior runs. The Bucs, however, pounded out a season high 10 hits in the loss.

Sargis absorbed the loss but pitched well in relief of starter Jeff Melrose. Sargis allowed three hits and fanned three in three innings of work.

Melrose hurled the first six innings and was superb, yielding just two hits and a walk while whiffing six.

Campbell jumped out to a 2-0 first inning lead on a couple of well placed bunts.

Dave Erkman led off the inning with a single and moved to second on an error. John Walsh followed with a bloop double down the right field line but Erkman had to hold at third, making sure the Wilcox rightfielder didn't make the catch.

Joe Jones then proceeded to squeeze home Erkman and with two outs, Melrose beat out a drag bunt single to score Walsh.

AFTER WILCOX cut Campbell's lead in half in the top of the fourth, the Bucs regained their two run lead in the bottom half of the frame.

Jones opened the Buccaneer fourth with a single, stole second and third, and then scored on Dan Romeo's two out double to right.

Erkman, Walsh and Rich Alvarez collected two hits apiece in the win for Campbell while Brian Raust, Jones, Melrose and Romeo chipped in with one each.

The Del Mar Dons, meanwhile, had to settle for second place in the 22nd annual Menlo-Atherton baseball tournament recently when they dropped their final two games to host M-A and tourney champ Gunn.

Gunn finished the tournament with a 4-2 record, one game better than the 3-3 marks Del Mar and Menlo-Atherton posted. Del Mar, however, took second on the basis of more runs scored (24-21). Samuel Ayer finished last with a 2-4 record.

Del Mar, which began the day in first place, squandered leads of 4-0 and 6-4 in a 7-6 loss to Menlo-Atherton.

The Dons went into the bottom of the seventh with a 6-4 lead, only to have M-A score three runs before an out was ever recorded.

LARRY RAGUSA suffered the loss in relief of Tom Bell, who gave up his first earned runs of the pre-season in the loss.

Craig Richesin was two for two with two runs-batted-in and Sean Venenzia was two for three for the Dons. Scott MacAdams and Bill Tsamis scored two runs apiece.

Del Mar's title hopes ended a short while later when it was beaten 4-2 by Gunn.

Ragusa again suffered the loss but pitched very well, striking out five in five and one-third innings. He gave up all four Gunn runs, but only three were earned.

Daryl Zweigle was a bright spot offensively for the Dons, belting the club's first home run of the 1979 season.

Catcher Mario Ramirez was two for three in the loss.

Senior leftfielder Craig Richesin, who hit .417 and had an on base average of .600; junior shortstop Sweigle, who hit .390 with a homer and an on base average of .500; and senior pitcher Bell, who was 2-1 with a 2.33 earned run average, were all-tournament selections for Del Mar.

Earning honorable mention plaudits were junior catcher Ramirez (.429) and senior pitcher Ragusa (1-2).

Raiders keep KGO

THE OAKLAND Raiders' National Football League games will be heard over KGO radio for at least three more years, it was announced recently.

KGO, which has broadcast Raider games since 1976, reached an agreement with the Raiders recently to extend its broadcasting rights through the 1981 season.

Sports

Codiroli hot at plate

ONE OF THE MAIN reasons for Stanford's winning record in baseball this season has been the play of Mike Codiroli, a product of Mitty high school.

The speedy centerfielder leads the team in hitting with a mark of .458, and stolen bases with 12.

Stanford will be in Southern California the last two weeks in March for eight games.

VICTORY AWARD — Gabby Seagrave accepts the CCS third place award on behalf of the Prospect Panthers after they beat Woodside.

(Photography by Dick Sparrer)

The West Valley Athletic League fielded girl's soccer for the first time this season, and the Panthers took advantage of their first year of existence to grab the consolation crown in the Central Coast Section play-offs.

In fact, if not for a few bad breaks, Prospect might well have won it all in its "rookie year."

Sandwiched between Prospect's final win over Woodside and a victory over Silver Creek in the opening round of CCS play, was a 1-0 loss to Saratoga.

Not only was Saratoga the first team to blank Prospect, but it was the only team to defeat the Panthers all year. Irregardless, the loss eliminated Prospect from gaining the finals and sent the Falcons instead.

Significant in the game was the loss of Prospect's Nancy Miller with an ankle injury, Joyce Witnauer with appendicitis and the muddy field.

"IT WAS OUR only loss of the year, but the muddy field and the loss of two starters was just too much," said Panther coach Lee Ward.

But Miller returned for the final game against Woodside and helped Prospect rebound with a 4-0 conquest.

"We were fired up — we had to be because the girls were upset over the loss to Saratoga — and we dominated," Ward said.

Miller tallied twice in that win, both times with an assist from Mary Anne Rumbaugh, and Nancy Cochran and Kyra Shuster each had one score.

In the 3-1 victory over Silver Creek, Miller scored again. Also tallying were Gabby Seagrave on a penalty kick and Joyce Witnauer.

As an indication of just how close the Panthers came to reaching the finals and perhaps whipping Monta Vista, Ward noted that Prospect defeated the Matadors in a pre-season encounter.

In an effort to battle the "sophomore jinx" next season, Ward can look to the return of four freshman starters and a "strong bench that wanted to play and did play" in 1978. Only five seniors will be lost from this year's squad.

IN CONTROL — Prospect's Nancy Cochran was in the control of the ball as she dribbled up field against Woodside in the CCS play-offs. Cochran tallied a goal in the game, which Prospect won 4-0 for third place.

Volleyball tourney

VOLLEYBALL teams interested in participating in spring season competition are invited to take part in a county-wide tournament in April.

The double elimination tournament is $30 per team, which includes umpires, referees and trophies.

Entry forms can be obtained by contacting Mark McCarroll at the City of Campbell Community Services Department at 378-8141 ext. 252.

The men's A, B, C and women's open tournaments are scheduled for April 21 and 22. Co-ed B and C tournaments will be held April 28 and 29.

Top coaches set for WVC cage camp

A TOP-NOTCH group of high school and college coaches will conduct two 12-day instructional sessions at the West Valley College basketball camp in Saratoga starting in June.

Basketball players aged 8-18 wishing to polish their skills should make plans to attend one of the two sessions.

Now in its sixth year, the camp will run its first session from June 18 to June 29 and the second session July 9 to July 20.

The camp fee is $53 per session and is limited to the first 64 entrants in each session.

Along with many of the top coaches will be guest speaker and former Camden high star Ray Townsend of the Golden State Warriors.

Speedway fans see race, boxing match

THERE WAS almost more action on the infield than there was on the track at the Daytona 500 last month when Cale Yarborough and the Allison brothers got into a slugging match after a last lap crash.

Yarborough and Donnie Allison were in front when the two rammed into each other, hit the wall and slid down into the infield.

But that wasn't the end of it. Yarborough jumped out of his car and went after Allison. Before things were over Bobby Allison was in there swinging too and the fans got double their money — a race and a boxing match too.

Well, it appears as though Daytona doesn't have the corner on fighting race car drivers — they jumped into the ring at the San Jose Fairgrounds Speedway recently!

San Jose put on its own version of Daytona when the super modifieds spun through the Speedway dirt on March 17. And it was Lloyd Beard and the Sargent brothers playing the key roles.

MIKE SARGENT, who opened the night by running into Jerry Cecil in the trophy dash, capped the night by blasting into Beard on the 14th lap of the 20-lap main event and forcing the veteran driver to overturn twice, according to NASCAR.

Beard hopped out of his overturned car and went after Sargent and a real donneybrook, even including the mechanics, developed before NASCAR officials could restore order.

The difference between San Jose's battle and the fight in Daytona, though, was that the brother teams were on different sides.

In Daytona, Bobby Allison rushed out in defense of his brother. But in San Jose Mark Sargent was as mad as anyone at his older brother because earlier in the evening Mike had run into his car too!

But all of the flying fists and spinning cars must have had little effect on the elder Sargent, because he hopped back into his car at the restart and rolled to his first main event win of the young season.

SARGENT FINISHED two lengths ahead of Mike Parker in the main event. Dan Smith ran third with Nick Ringo of San Jose fourth and Joe Bailey fifth.

The competition promises to continue to be fierce this season in the Saturday night super modified show at the Fairgrounds. Action will continue Saturday with practice at 5 p.m., time trials at 6 p.m. and the first race at 7 p.m. Admission to the double-header show is $4.50 for adults, $3 for juniors and $1 for children aged 6-12.

The stock cars make up the second half of the double-header at the Speedway and 1977 San Jose champ Dave Byrd of Los Gatos was the main event winner on March 17 for the first time this year.

Byrd, third in the point standings last year, powered his Pontiac to the main event win after starting the race in the 21st and last spot in the field.

Warrior swimmers seek to get back into title chase with win over Bruins

THE Westmont swimming team will be put to the test this Friday when it travels to Branham for a pivotal West Valley Athletic League meet.

The Warriors, now 2-1 in league, need to hurdle the 1-2 Bruins to get back in the hunt for the WVAL championship.

"Branham has a very young, but very good team," said Westmont coach Bill Zirzow. "We should win, but they're not a team to overlook."

Westmont, which suffered its only loss to WVAL leader Los Gatos (3-0), defeated Prospect 108-58 last Friday to go into this week's meet with a full head of steam.

Senior Bill Zirzow, the coach's son, and senior Jeff Holshevnikoff registered record performances last week for the Warriors.

Zirzow tied the school record in winning the 50 free, clocking a swift 22.5, set by his brother Kevin last year.

Holshevnikoff broke his own school record in the 500 free, finishing first with a sparkling time of 4:46.4. His old mark was 4:51.0.

ANOTHER school record dropped as well Friday, when the 400 free relay team composed of the Zirzow brothers, Holshevnikoff and Tom Boese streaked to a 3:20.5 mark. The previous record was 3:24.0.

Sophomore Eric Beauchemin captured the 200 free event in 1:54.4 and senior teammate Boese won the 100 fly in 58.4. Chris Chappell clinched the 100 breast in a fine 1:10.0.

Kevin Zirzow, just a sophomore, had a pair of victories for the Warriors. The speedster took first in the 200 individual medley in 2:05.6 and came back to win the 100 free in a quick 49.0.

In the diving competition, Westmont's Bob Lang captured top honors. The freshman diver scored 130.9 points.

Branham boasts one of the best diving crews in the WVAL in Peter Collins, Monte Overson and Dave Braillier. They also bring speed in the 200 free, the 200 IM and the 100 fly.

Prospect, 2-1, will travel to unbeaten Leigh, 3-0, this Friday for a crucial league meet. Del Mar, 0-2, will battle Blackford, 0-3, in a contest of the winless Friday. Meanwhile, Camden, 0-2, will have to travel to Los Gatos, 2-0, for a tough match against the Wildcats. Campbell, 2-1, takes a bye this week.

Campbell, which opened the season by whipping Del Mar 102-53 and losing to Branham 104-67, toppled Camden last Friday 105-62.

Prospect downed Blackford 95-55 and beat Camden 94-66 before dropping its last meet to Westmont.

Blackford has been the whipping dog of the league, losing to Prospect 95-55, Westmont 116-46 and Leigh 121-38. Del Mar has been just as unfortunate, falling to Campbell 102-53 and Leigh 117-40.

Working harder and getting less? Consider the following information:

What is EXECU-SYSTEMS REALTORS? EXECU-SYSTEMS REALTORS is experienced professionals who have banded together under a common company name to maintain a strong public identity, the highest ethical standards in the industry, and to make more money than is possible in normal real estate agencies.

Do you have to be a broker to be associated with EXECU-SYSTEMS? NO! It makes no difference whether you are a real estate salesman or broker.

What is the EXECU-SYSTEMS 100% commission concept? Very simply, you keep 100% of every commission you earn. NO OFFICE SPLIT - It's all yours to keep!

What will my share of the cost of the office operation be each month? Guaranteed maximum office expense of only $350 with semi-private offices available.

Are you sure that EXECU-SYSTEMS' concept is going to work? YES! EXECU-SYSTEMS was created in 1965. Since that time it has grown to be the largest real estate company in Arizona where it totally dominates the market. It is the largest company of its kind in the United States. EXECU-SYSTEMS is the original 100% commission concept and the only truly successful operation of its kind. Don't be fooled by the other companies who say they operate like us - THEY DO NOT!

What can I expect to earn? Of course it will depend on how dedicated you are. As an example: Let us assume during a one month period you have listed and sold one average priced $70,000 house. Based on a 6% commission, you have earned $4,200. After deducting your monthly expenses of approximately $350, you have earned in excess of $3,850 for the month. As you can see, you have the opportunity to make as much money as you wish. Your monthly overhead will remain the same regardless of how many sales you make. And best of all - the commissions you earn will be ALL YOURS. Our National average annual income per associate is $30,000. And here in San Jose, the average figure is even higher!

What about the upcoming problems real estate firms are facing with the I.R.S. and salesmen being treated like employees? EXECU-SYSTEMS Associates are independent contractors in the true sense. You are your own boss, you set your hours and your own goals. No one looks over your shoulder.

What about building my personal image in the community? Each EXECU-SYSTEMS Associate's sign and other privilege-related items bear his own name. As a result he builds his own image in the community as an independent member of a group of real estate professionals.

Do I have the privilege to buy & sell real estate as I wish to build my own estate without paying a commission to the office? Yes - remember - NO commissions are paid to the office. You keep what you have earned and you are encouraged to build your own estate by purchasing real estate.

Who takes care of incoming calls, typing, and normal secretarial duties? You have a competent office secretary at your disposal. All details are professionally systemized to leave you free to conduct your business without interruption.

How are working conditions? Our offices are second to none. Each office is in a prime location and has many aesthetic qualities that will help build your professional image. You will be working with only top flight ethical associates, those who have proven that they are the best in their field.

Advantages? It all depends on you! There just aren't that many full-time competent real estate professionals in comparison with the "just-in-case-somebody-comes-down-the-road" license holders. If you consider yourself a goal-oriented professional, EXECU-SYSTEMS can offer you more than you ever thought attainable under the old traditional form of real estate operation. Think about it! Then when you feel it is time for you to move up in the world, feel free to call John Cromie. A friendly, confidential down-to-earth discussion will be arranged on what your future can hold for you with EXECU-SYSTEMS REALTORS.

"Meredith Sunpapers Classified Give Us Better Results Than Other Area Media"
says Audrey Lucente, San Jose-Sunnyvale area manager for TemPositions.

"Temporary help meets businesses' changing demands. Companies use temporary workers for vacation replacements, sick leave and to supplement the regular work force as needed by peaks in business activity. All businesses are subject to seasonal demands of one kind or another — inventories, fiscal closings, tax season and budget preparation. For all of these tasks and many others, temporary employees are used. Even people who have been out of the job market for years can be placed in temporary positions for which the employers pay the fees. To fill these job orders we advertise WEEKLY in the Meredith Sunpapers classifieds because these newspapers give us INSTANT RESULTS.

SAAB

How we made the exciting Saab Turbo more exciting.

We took $1,753 off the sticker price.

Saab-Scania of America has reduced the price by $1,753 on our Saab 99 Turbo to make room for our '79 models.

The Saab 99 Turbo is a super exciting car. It has the remarkably powerful Saab Turbo engine, front wheel drive, rack & pinion steering, 4-wheel power assisted disc brakes, sunroof, metallic paint and electric sideview mirrors. Even at the old price the Turbo was a thrilling driving value. But now at $8,995* P.O.E. it's even more so.

And ask your Saab dealer for his special air conditioning price, for your new Turbo.

So get out and test drive a Saab Turbo now. This offer is good only while supply lasts. At $1,753 off that won't be long.

plus tax, license and documentation fee.

SAAB IS THE COMMAND PERFORMANCE CAR
